INQUIRY STARTS AGAIN TONIGHT

Will be Continuation of Investigation of Masonic Fire Begun Monday Night.

SOME CALLED SECOND TIME

Testimony of Dan Long Shows Water Was Turned on Before Plugs Were Closed.

The inquiry into the Masonic block fire of July 20 will be continued by the city council this evening at seven-thirty o'clock. Several witnesses were before the council Monday night have been called to appear again tonight. Among these are Albert Capp, Clyde Deeters and Henry Gregg.

The investigation was stopped on Monday night because some of the engineers and firemen at the plant were not present. They are acquainted with what transpired at the plant the morning of the fire and with questions that have been brought out in the inquiry.

The question as to how the water escaped from the reservoir Saturday morning before the fire arose during the inquiry. It has never been explained. The following from the testimony may, in a measure, be explanatory:

Councilman Ed Kelley asked Dan Long, who worked with Supt. Frank Brown in repairing hydrants this question:

"You don't remember whether there was any water running out of that hydrant (Scudder's) at the time you closed it?"

"Yes sir," Long replied, "the next morning Frank (Supt. Brown) turned the water on before we got all the way around."

The following is a continuation of the testimony Monday night. Some parts wholly irrelevant were omitted, where the same question was asked a number of times:

Testimony of Dan Long.

Questions by Mr. Newhouse.

Q. Were you working on the night the repair work was done on Harrison and Second streets?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you assist in closing the gates that night?

A. Yes sir.

Q. About how long after they were closed until you had the line drained and ready for work?

A. That was between twelve and one o'clock.

Q. Were the gates shut and lines drained at that time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How long did it take to do the work?

A. Couple of hours, I would judge. Q. When did you first know that the water was escaping up at the bank corners?

A. When Ralph Payne came down there

Q. You were notified of the water escaping there while you were working at the plug?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you assist in closing the gates the second time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Both open?

A. One only.

Q. The wrench was there when you went back the second time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. When you closed the gates the second time did you know how much water was left in the reservoir?

A. I don't know. Somebody said there was two feet.

Q. You didn't see the reservoir?

A. No sir.

Q. You don't know then what condition it was in?

A. No, I don't know. I wasn't back after we closed the hydrant up. Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. Were you working at the hydrant the night the water was lost at Harrison and Second streets?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You got through about two o'clock?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you know what time they got through with the work at the bank?

A. I judge about six-thirty. We started out to close the hydrant and it was after seven when we got through.

Q. You never closed the hydrant until after they got through?

A. No sir.

Q. Was very much water running out?

A. No sir, there wasn't any.

Q. You don't know how much water was in the reservoir?

A. No sir.

Q. Who assisted you in closing those valves?

A. Mr. Brown.

Q. You say those valves were open the second time?

A. One of them.

Q. You helped to close both of them, did you?

A. Yes sir.

Q. It is difficult to open that valve and close it?

A. It closes pretty hard part of the time and part of the time not so hard.

Q. Does it take two men to operate it?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you think it is possible a man could make a mistake and turn it the wrong way?

A. I guess he might but I don't think we did that night because Mr. Brown, Mr. Deeters and Henry Gregg said the valves were closed the tightest they were ever closed.

Q. You were not there when they discovered they were losing water?

A. No sir.

Q. You were working on Harrison street?

A. Yes, when Ralph Payne came and told me.

Q. You didn't notice it from where you were at work?

A. No sir.

Q. Did Mr. Brown go to the bank corner to see where the water was coming from?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you know that he went to the plant after that?

A. Yes, I went with him.

Q. And found this valve open?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Had the engineer found it out?

A. No sir.

Q. Who was the engineer?

A. Stewart Beale.

Questions by Mr. Kelley.

Q. Do you remember who turned the hydrant on and off on the avenue across from Scudder's?

A. Mr. Deeters, myself and another gentleman.

Q. Who closed it?

A. I think Clyde Deeters closed it there. I helped him close one or two.

Q. You don't remember whether there was any water running out of that hydrant at the time you closed it?

A. Yes sir, the next morning Frank turned the water on before we got all the way round.

Q. About seven o'clock in the morning?

A. Yes, I got home about seven-thirty.

Q. You don't know how many hydrants were open that night?

A. I never kept account of them.

Testimony of Frank Brown.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. Where were you when the fire bell rang?

A. Home in bed.

Q. Did you get up right away?

A. I did at the second alarm.

Q. When you got there did you know where the fire was?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you know the number was this engine house or somewhere around here?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You would naturally think it was a pretty big fire by the two alarms?

A. Yes, but I have seen it when it wasn't.

Q. What did you do at the plant after you got there?

A. I went to the office and waited for the call.

Q. Did you hear any call at all?

A. No sir.

Q. Who was on duty that night?

A. Mr. Joyce.

Q. In the engine room?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What time did he go on duty?

A. 8 o'clock.

Q. Who preceded him?

A. Dick Beale.

Q. Dick Beale left at eight o'clock in the evening and Joyce had Stewart's run?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you notice when you came in the plant how much water was in the reservoir?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you know what time you got there?

A. No sir.

Q. How much water was there?

A. Six or seven feet.

Q. About how long do you think seven feet of water would last pumping with the fire engine?

A. Not very long. Not over an hour. From one-half to an hour.

Q. Pretty good pressure for that long?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Had you any instructions from the fire committee in regard to turning on pressure in case of fire?

A. No sir.

Q. Who talked to you and told you to relieve Stewart?

A. Mr. Ormes.

Q. He told you to send Stewart to take charge of the engine?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you know how much steam pressure you had on by the time you got to the plant?

A. No.

Q. Did you look to see?

A. No sir.

Q. Were you in the boiler room?

A. No sir, I went right to the office.

Q. Who was firing that night on this run?

A. Mr. Maple.

Q. You were speaking about the river pump, when did it first begin to act bad?

A. It always acted bad.

Q. Did you at sometime have to take part of it and send it away?

A. Yes sir, the valve.

Q. When did you do that?

A. Two or three weeks ago.

Q. Where did you ship it?

A. North Carolina, where it was manufactured.

Q. Did you have a duplicate here?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How did you ship it?

A. By freight.

Q. Has it been returned?

A. No sir.

THIS CONFIRMS LOCAL RUMORS

Attempt Being Made to Organize Interurban Trainmen of Indiana Into a Union.

ON EACH LINE SEPARATELY

Hinted if Demands of Men Are Not Heeded, They Will "Walk Out" State Fair Week.

Rumors current here confirm the stories that are developing in all parts of Indiana concerning the well organized plan that is being carried on to perfect a union among interurban trainmen. Officials of the I. & C. have no knowledge of organizers working among their men.

However, dispatches say that the traction officials in all parts of the state are viewing the situation with alarm, as there has as yet been little indication as to what the men intend to do.

It has been hinted that if the demands that are made to the officials are finally refused the men have planned to "walk out" during the week of the state fair. Such an action would practically tie up traffic to Indianapolis and would call for immediate action on the part of the traction or state fair officials.

The new state law preventing the traction companies from hiring "green" men to go on the cars would complicate matters and would give the trainmen a decided advantage.

J. C. Hillenbrand, a motorman on the T. H. I. & E., and three others, were dismissed in Indianapolis yesterday because they attended a meeting of Carl S. Black, an organizer of the interurban trainmen.

Black, who has been made defendant in a civil suit in Indianapolis by William E. Young, a Union Traction Company motorman, who seeks to recover the return of $5.50 in initiation fees, denied yesterday that he had misrepresented the nature of the order known as the order of Railway Employees or the "Stars." Young charged that fraud had been practiced, but Black denies this and says that everything was made clear to Young when he took the obligations.

It is evident that the movement has been carried on each road separately and reports are that practically every motorman and conductor on all of the roads have joined the movement.

The organization work has been in progress among the men since February and it is said that very good progress has been made since then, without anything being known of the movement by the traction officials. Several meetings have been held in different cities, but the matter was kept a secret until only a few days ago.

The first indication of the union made public came from Columbus last week where it was reported that three of the oldest trainmen on the Indianapolis, Columbus & Louisville road were discharged because of their activity in organizing a union. On the same line, it is understood, practically every man on the division has joined the movement.

RAT AVIATES IN HIS TROUSER LEG

John E. Alexander Grabs Rodent When it Reaches His Knee But is Bitten.

TRYING TO STOP ITS FLIGHT

John E. Alexander, living southwest of the city, sustained a painful bite from a rat this morning while tramping some straw in the barn at his home. Mr. Alexander was bitten on the leg just below the knee and the wound while very ugly may not result seriously. The accident was very peculiar. The rat ran up Mr. Alexander's trouser and he grabbed it. While trying to hold the rat it bit him. He was trying to step on the rat when it started up his trousers. A rat bite at this time of the year is said to be very dangerous by the attending physician and it may yet cause him considerable trouble.

HERKLESS SUED.

Charles L. Henry, the new owner of the mill race, filed suit Tuesday against Arvel R. Herkless for damages and asking an injunction. He demands $1,500. The complaint alleges that Herkless is undermining the race bank at his gravel pit and is damaging the property. A similar suit is pending against Mr. Herkless brought by Owen L. Carr. Carr was the owner of the race before last Saturday when he sold it to the I. & C.

Hugo Schmalzel, who has been quite sick at his home in West First street for several days, is able to be at his barbershop again.

WAITING FOR COURSE OUTLINE

County Superintendent Says no Plans Can be Made Until State Board Acts.

THE NEW VOCATIONAL WORK

Receives Proclamation of Governor Concerning Uniform System of High School Texts.

County Superintendent C. M. George has received a copy of the proclamation issued by Governor Ralston, stating that a uniform system of school books has been adopted by the state board of education and will be installed in all high schools of the state next September. With the proclamation were sent printed copies of the books to be used.

The measures taken by the state school board were in accordance with an act passed by the last legislature. The state board of school commissioners has entered into contracts with a number of publishers to supply books for the high schools of the state for a period of five years.

It will be possible to exchange books by the system installed. The exchange price for books in good condition will be about two-thirds of the original price. Books now in use in classes already formed shall be continued in use until these classes have completed the subject.

High school text books in use in schools for the year preceding July 1, 1913, and in the hands of the dealer, will be returned to the publisher at wholesale price. The prices of the high school text-

A Big Manufacturer's Business Tonic

Discussing advertising a manufacturer of one of the best known soaps in the country said:

"We plan to run all the time to the limit of our factories. We have the entire country blocked out on sales charts, and know what the sales of our soap should be in each section every day in the year.

"If our sales lag in any spot, we immediately begin advertising in the daily newspapers, and soon our sales go on swimmingly again.

"There is no doubt but we could double or treble our present sales by a newspaper campaign all over the United States.

"But we have established our soap. We have all the business we want—all we need is to hold what we have.

"We find daily newspaper advertising on the lines I have indicated the best tonic we can apply when a tonic is needed."

This manufacturer used mediums of all sorts, but when he wants actual demand to bring immediate sales he uses the daily newspapers.

Merchants and manufacturers interested in local advertising for nationally distributed articles are invited to write to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York City.

REX BEACH ADVENTURE STORIES

The Colonel and the Horse Thief

By REX BEACH

Copyright by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Say, it was lovely, and when the boys overtook me, out of sight of the house, Morgan would have been aston-

"That's Texas Charlie that robbed the Bank of Euclid."

ished to see the sheriff, his posse and the terrible desperado doubled up in their saddles laughing fit to bust.

Well, sir, we never had a hitch in the proceedings for five days, and I was getting to feel a sort of pride in my record as a bank robber, forger, horse thief and murderer, according to the way Bennett presented it. He certainly was the boss liar of the range.

He had a story framed up that painted me as the bloodiest young tough the Lone Star had ever produced, and it never failed to get me all the attention there was in the house.

One night we came to the best looking place we'd seen, and in answer to Jim's summons out walked an old man, followed by two of the prettiest girls I ever saw, who joined their father in inviting us in.

"Glad to be of assistance to you,
Mr. Sheriff," he said. "My name is Purdy, sir—Colonel Purdy, as you may have heard; in the Mexican war special mention three times for distinguished conduct. These are my daughters, sir—Annabel and Marie." As we went in he continued: "You say you had a hard time getting your prisoner?
He looks young for a criminal. What's he wanted for?"

Somewhat when I saw those girls blushing and bowing behind their father I didn't care to have my crimes made out any blacker'n necessary, and I tried to give Jim the high sign to let me off easy—just make it forgery or arson—but he was looking at the ladies, and, evidently believing in the strength of a good impression, he said: "Well, yes; he's young, but they never was a old man with half his crimes. He's wanted for a good many things in different places, but I went after him for horse stealing and murder.
Killed a rancher and his little daughter, then set fire to the house and ran off a bunch of stock."

"Oh, oh! How dreadful!" shuddered the girls, backing off, with horrified glances at me.

I tried to get near Jim to step on his foot, but the old man was glaring at me something awful.

"Come to observe him closely, he has a depraved face," says he. "He looks the thorough criminal in every feature; dead to every decent impulse,
I s'pose."

In those days I was considered a pretty handsome feller, too, and I knew I had Jim beat before the draw on looks, but he continues making matters worse.

"Yes, and he's desperate, too—one of the worst I ever see. We had an awful fight with him up here on the line of the territory. He shot Martin and me before we got him. You see, I wanted to take him alive, and so I took chances on getting hurt."

"Thank you, miss; my arm does ache considerable. Of course if you'd just as soon dress it— Oh, no; I'm no braver'n anybody else, I guess! Nice of you to say so, anyhow." And he went grinning out into the kitchen with the girls to fix up his arm.

The old man insisted on having my feet bound together and me fastened to a chair and said: "Yes, yes, I know you can watch him, but you're in my house now, and I feel a share of the responsibility upon me. I've had experience with desperate characters, and I'm going to be sure that this young reprobate don't escape his just punishment. Are you sure you don't need more help getting him home? I'll go with you if!"

"Thank you," interrupted Hollis.
"We've chased the scoundrel 400 miles, and I reckon, now we've got him, we can keep him."

At supper Jim, with his arm in a new sling, sat between the two girls, who cooed over him and took turns feeding him till it made me sick.

The old man had a nigger move my chair up to the foot of the table and bring me a plate of coarse grub after they all finished eating.

He had tied my ankles to the lower rung of the chair himself, and when I says to the nigger, "Those cords have plum stopped my circulation; just ease
'em up a little," he went straight up.

"Don't you touch them knots, Sam!"
he roared. "I know how to secure a man, and don't you try any of your games in my house either, you young fiend. I'd never forgive myself if you escaped."

I ate everything I could reach, which wasn't much, and when I asked for the butter he glared at me and said: "Butter's too good for horse thieves. Eat what's before you."

Every time I'd catch the eye of one of the girls and kind of grin and look enticing she'd shiver and tell Jim that the marks of my depravity stood out on my face like warts on a toad.

Jim and the boys would all grin like idiots and invent a new crime for me.

They put it to the old man so strohg that when he turned in he chained me to Sam, the cross eyed nigger that stood behind me at supper, and made us sleep on the floor.

I told Sam that I cut a man's throat once because he snored, and that nigger never closed an eye all night. I was trying to get even with somebody.

After breakfast, when it came time to leave, Donnelly untied my feet and led me out into the yard, where the girls were hanging around the colonel and Jim, who was preparing to settle up.

As we rode up the evening before I had noticed that we turned in from the road through a lane and that the fence was too high to jump, so when I threw my leg over Black Hawk I hit Donnelly a swat in the neck, and as he did a stage fall I swept through the gate and down the lane.

The old man cut the halter off one of his Mexican warwhips and broke through the house on the run, appearing at the front door with his shotgun just as I checked up to make the turn on to the main road.

As I swung around, doubled over the horse's neck, he let drive with his old blunderbuss, and I caught two buckshot in my right arm where you see them marks.

I had sense enough to hang on and ride for my life, because I knew the old fire eater would reckon it a pleasure to put an end to such a wretch as me if he got half a chance.

I heard him howl: "Come on, boys!
We'll get him yet!" And over my shoulder I saw him jump one of his loose horses standing in the yard and come tearing down the lane, ahead of the befuddled sheriff and posse, his white hair streaming and the shotgun waving aloft as though charging an army of greasers at the head of his regiment.

From the way he drew away from the boys I wouldn't have placed any money that he was wrong, either.

I've always wondered how the old man ever got through that war with only three recommendations to the government.

He certainly kept good horses, too,
for in five minutes we'd left the posse

"Come on, boys! We'll get him yet!"

behind, and I saw him madly urging his horse into range, reloading as he came.

As I threw the quirt into the mare with my good arm I allowed I'd had about all the horse stealing I wanted for awhile.

The old devil finally saw he was losing ground in spite of his best efforts and let me have both barrels. I heard the shot patter on the hard road behind me and hoped he'd quit and go home, but I'm blamed if he didn't chase me five miles further before turning back in hopes I'd cast a shoe or something would happen to me.

I believe I was on the only horse in Texas that could have outrun the colonel and his that morning.

About noon I stopped at a blacksmith's shop, half dead with pain, and had my arm dressed and a big bolt of whisky.

As the posse rode up to me, sitting in the sun by the lathered flanks of my horse and nursing my arm, Jim yells out: "Here he is! Surround him, boys! You're our prisoner!"

"No; I'm blamed if I am!" I says.
"You'll have to get another desperado.
After this I'm the sheriff!"

CLEAN BILL FOR CITY OFFICIALS

Mishawaka Council Exonerates
All Hands.

THE CLERGY WAS DENOUNCED

Not Only That, but the Newspapers That Gave Publicity to Ministers' Attempts to Throw Light on Dark Places Came in For a "Flaying" in the Report Which Publicly Relieved the Mayor and Police of Blame.

Mishawaka, Ind., Aug. 13.—Flaying the newspapers and denouncing the clergy for undue activity in attempting to place officers of the city administration before the public in an unfavorable light, the common council as a committee of the whole signed a report exonerating Mayor John A. Herzog, Chief of Police Harvey, C. Frick and other policemen from all blame in regard to the open violation of the liquor laws by saloon men. The chief of police was upheld in his refusal to accompany the Rev. L. E. Edwards to open saloons on a Sunday morning, the report indicating that it would have been humiliating for the chief to be led to a saloon through back alleys.

BROAD CEILING COLLAPSES

Seventy-Five Escape Death When Buried in Wreck.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 13.—Alma Furnas and Emma Rutley were seriously injured and a score of girls temporarily blinded when the ceiling of the second floor at the Miller Parrott Baking company plant collapsed.

Seventy-five women and girls were buried under the debris and panic prevailed. Dust filled the street and the crash attracted hundreds to the scene.
Fire and police departments responded and rescued the women by taking them out through the second story windows.

It appeared miraculous that none of the employees were killed. Girls were taken out with garments torn to shreds.
Immediate medical attention was given to save their eyes from dust.
All except two were able to go home unaccompanied as soon as they recovered from the nervous shock.

dangerous crossing, and investigated.

Boys' Plait Causes Arrest.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 13.—John
Leonard, a detective for the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad, was arrested charged with highway robbery. It is alleged that he held up two boys and, after taking their money, ordered them to "beat it." They did, to the police station, where they filed a complaint against the officer.

Dr. Dabney was then taken to Canada by his wife with the hope that his mind would be regained, but as he showed no improvement he finally was brought to this city.

An Excuse to Hide Behind.

This is a huge joke—decidedly huge—this effort of the city administration forces to dodge the real issue in the investigation of the fire in the Masonic block July 20. There was never any mention of investigating the administration of the water and light plant during A. T. Mahin's term as superintendent until Monday night.

From the first the Daily Republican has demanded an inquiry into the mysterious circumstances attending the Masonic fire because there was no fire pressure, and because of many other secretive things. There has never been any reference to A. T. Mahin's administration as superintendent until Mayor Black and accomplices concocted this dodge to avoid a real inquiry of the fire.

If Mayor Black and his followers really wanted to investigate A. T. Mahin's term as superintendent and compare it with Frank Brown's, why was not that included in the original resolution ordering an investigation?

When the question arose Monday night as to the purpose of the investigation, Councilman Newhouse demanded the minutes of the meeting the night of August 5 to prove that the investigation of the fire was order and not an investigation of the charge of Dr. Parsons that politics ruled the plant.

What was the reply of Mayor Black and his cohorts to the request for the minutes of the last meeting to offer as proof? The minutes of the last meeting had not been "written up," you must understand, so there. A lamentably weak excuse. But where were the notes from which the minutes will be written eventually?

If Mayor Black wanted to investigate the term of A. T. Mahin as superintendent, why did he not say so? When the agitation for an investigation of the fire pressure was first started, Mayor Black said that he would welcome such an investigation. But in the next breath, and in a stage whisper, he said to a reporter of the Republican:

"Just let it rest."

And that's where Mayor Black wanted it to be. He never mentioned that he would be glad to have an investigation of the fire, providing the term of A. T. Mahin also could be investigated. That was a fort behind which he and his allies took refuge.

They did not want an investigation because they feared it. Their attitude in the present inquiry is conclusive proof of that. If they were sincere in their assertions, why did not they conduct this investigation without any parly and then having concluded it, demand an investigation of A. T. Mahin's term of office if they wanted it. No member of the council would vote against a resolution to investigate anything if sufficient cause for it could be shown. That's a reason the administration could not dodge the present inquiry. There was ample proof that it was needed. Whenever sixty thousand dollars worth of property is destroyed, property which in the minds of many people could have been saved had the correct methods been pursued, there seems to be cause.

If the administration was so anxious to investigate the term of A. T. Mahin's office, why did it not do it before they discharged him without cause. No cause has ever yet been assigned for his dismissal. They apparently knew they could not make one, though they seem to be versed in this art. Dr. Parsons said Monday night that Mayor Black had confided in him early in the administration that Mahin was a good man for the office, but he was not a Democrat.

The administration has been working out and organizing for the last week a campaign to heap calumny on A. T. Mahin. Mayor Black, City Attorney Howard Barrett and others have been holding secret meetings to perfect plans to subvert the real issue in the inquiry, that of investigating the fire. Instead they have planned to turn the inquiry on to A. T. Mahin and make him the "goat."

When Dr. Parsons frustrated the administration, it would take a well tempered man to restrain his passions. Mayor Black was not such a man.

The fact that the mayor and city attorney let it be known that they attempted to dig up out of history of the past a controversy the Odd Fellows and A. T. Mahin had and which was settled peaceably, is more evidence of the straits to which the administration was put to change the investigation and confound the real issue.

Now comes above-mentioned administration, which has been attempting to attend to the business of Rushville, with a batch of figures to show that during the six months Brown has been superintendent, the city has been saved something like three thousand dollars in operating the water works. If these figures be correct, it was a dear saving. While Rushville saved three thousand dollars, a number of its taxpayers lost sixty thousand. There is a balance of fifty-seven thousand dollars on the debit side of the ledger.

Such economy, at the cost of efficiency, is dear indeed.

Frank Brown has been superintendent of the water and light plant six months, yet it was brought out in the inquiry Monday night that he had never made a report to the council. Now comes the administration with a set of figures comparing the first six months of Brown's term with the last six months of A. T. Mahin's term, showing a saving by Brown of over three thousand. If Mr. Brown has been practicing such economy, why had he not reported the same to the council some time ago? Very timely we should say.

The very fact that there is a fire going at the water and light plant indicates that it is there to notify the men at the plant to turn on the fire pressure. It would be a poor policy if the fire chief had to order fire pressure every time there was a fire. We wonder if the signal of three "blows on the bell" were not for more pressure.

INQUIRY STARTS AGAIN TONIGHT

Q. Did you ever find out from the Company whether or not they ever received it?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did the pump work all right with the new valve on?

A. No sir.

Q. Has the pump been idle all the time?

A. No sir, we got a new one in place of it.

Q. When did it come?

A. About a week or two ago.

Q. When did you put it on?

A. When it came. Last Tuesday, I think.

Q. How is it working now?

A. Working all right now.

Q. How long did you ever know the pump to work without repairs.

A. Eight months.

Q. Did it work eight months at a time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you been using much city water in the boilers lately?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You have used it all along?

A. When the river water did not work we used the city water.

Q. Did you use any compound in the city water?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you use the same compound for the city water as for the other water?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you know the analysis or difference in the two waters?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you believe a compound that is good for river water is just as good for city water? Does it make any difference?

A. I think not enough to notice it.

Q. Were you superintendent at the time of the flood?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Were the wells over at the river bottom in operation at the time of the flood?

A. No sir.

Q. Up until the flood were they operating?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Why were they not in operation after the flood?

A. Several men came here and said let them dry out.

Q. How long did you let them stand?

A. Couple of months I guess.

Q. Did you do anything at all to them during these two months?

A. Yes sir, cleaned them.

Q. What was the reason they would not work?

A. They were under water?

Q. That affected the motor?

A. Yes sir.

Q. After they had stood two months were you able to start them right away?

A. No sir some of the coils were burnt out.

Q. That was true in all pumps?

A. Yes sir, in three of them.

Q. Did you have to send three of them away?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you remove the motors from the base?

A. Yes, and dried them at the water works.

Q. How did you dry them there?

A. With heat. There is no furnace there but we placed them on the floor and covered them with canvas.

There is a twelve inch pipe that runs through the floor and makes it hot and that dried them out.

Q. You didn't know there was any difference between the water pumped from the Elm tree pump and the water over at Jones?

A. No sir, I didn't know there was any difference in the two waters.

Q. You did not know that the water at the plant was very hard and full of iron?

A. Yes, I ought to know it.

Q. Did you think this other water was the same thing?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you remember of putting on new meters since you were superintendent?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you remember hearing anybody say that the water was so hard on the meters that it blocked them up?

A. No sir, I have heard of the magnesia getting in the meters.

Q. Did you ever hear of the meters being taken apart after being in service a little time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Could you wash the substance off with water?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Easily?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Your reason then for not putting these pumps in operation there was because there was plenty of water in the old plant?

A. I went according to the advice of some electricians who were here. They said they would dry out if given enough time.

Q. You spoke of having plenty of water, was that the reason you did not hurry up and fix the meters?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you know that the old wells had been insufficient for a long time to supply the city?

A. That is owing to the time of year.

Q. Do those old wells seem to furnish as much water as they used to?

A. No sir.

Q. By stopping these wells and running those wells down there, there is not quite so much power required, is there?

A. No sir.

Q. Nor quite so much coal required?

A. No sir.

Q. When the river pump is not running does that lessen the expenses?

A. Very little.

Q. It doesn't cost much then to run the river pump, does it?

A. No sir.

Q. What is your impression as to running electric pumps?

A. I think they are dear. It takes lots of power to run them.

Q. Do you think electric power is expensive?

A. I think we made repairs as

A. Yes sir, with those pumps.

Q. How with other pumps?

A. Not so expensive to run.

Q. Why so expensive with those pumps?

A. I don't know but we can always tell by the power at the plant when they are put on.

Q. Are they automatic?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Can you tell by the plant when they start pumping?

A. Yes sir.

Q. When idle, or standing still can you notice it?

A. One or two night stop and not be noticed.

Q. Are the wells in operation now?

A. Part of them.

Q. Which ones?

A. The Pinnell-Tompkins well, and the Elm tree well.

Q. Has that well at the river been in operation at all since the flood?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How much power does it take?

A. About as much as the rest of them.

Q. How long will it pump?

A. About half day.

Q. Then what happens?

A. It runs empty.

Q. How about the Elm tree well. Is it as good as the Pinnell and Tompkins well.

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you start it when you started the other?

A. I think I did.

Q. Did you have any trouble starting the Pinnell pump?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you have to take the motor off to dry it?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Which one did you take off first?

A. Tompkins.

Q. How long did you keep it at the Water & Light plant?

A. Three or four days.

Q. Was it running Saturday?

A. Yes sir.

Q. All day Saturday?

A. I don't know about all day. I don't go over every day.

Q. Whom did you send?

A. Clyde goes.

Q. How often does he go?

A. Every day I think.

Q. Do they ever stop and start themselves?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What causes them to stop?

A. Shutting the engine down.

Q. That is the only thing that stops them from running?

A. Yes sir.

Q. When you start up they start?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How many men did you have to help you in this work, extra men outside of engineers and firemen?

A. Two.

Q. What two men?

A. Clyde Deeters and Dan Long.

Q. Have you had those men all the time?

A. No sir.

Q. How much extension work have you made since you have been superintendent?

A. I think about 1000 feet.

Q. Have you ever made any reports to the council about your work there?

A. No sir.

Q. I will ask you why not?

A. I could not say. I haven't had time to make it out. I have an account of everything I did.

Q. Do you attend the meetings regularly?

A. No sir.

Q. How many meetings have you attended, do you think?

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you think you have been here many times?

A. I think about half of the time.

Q. When you put in mains, making extensions, then you have a lot of extra men, do you?

A. Yes sir.

Q. When you made repairs over on Perkins street how many men did you have employed there?

A. Four or five and a part of the time three.

Q. Do you remember the leaks in the west part of the town?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you know how long it was before you went to repair them?

A. They were there all that winter.

Q. Were they as bad?

A. No sir.

Q. Kept getting worse all the time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Why didn't you make repairs on those leaks?

A. I think we made repairs as soon as we found out about them.

Q. Do you remember being before the council and asking for a water inspector?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you remember saying anything to Mr. Orme?

A. Yes sir, to find out how many leaks there were.

Q. What was the result of that report?

A. I don't know. The City Treasurer thinks it was good. The figures show good.

Q. You never reported that to the council?

A. No, I intend to.

Q. Were these leaks going on on west Third street when you asked for that appointment?

A. No sir.

Q. Didn't you say a little while ago that those leaks were going along all winter?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Wasn't it this spring that you asked for this appointment?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Didn't you know the leaks were there?

A. No sir.

Q. But you knew they had been going on all that winter?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What was the main reason that you didn't repair them sooner than you did?

A. I don't remember the reason if there was any.

Q. Do you remember one day when I came to the plant to see you in regard to a cylinder?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you remember me saying anything about those leaks?

A. No sir.

Q. You don't remember telling me you were going to repair them as soon as you got time?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you remember the time of year it was?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you remember what you were doing on that day?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you remember telling me you were busy taking a motor on the Elm tree well?

A. No sir.

Questions by Mr. Moor.

Q. Where did you say you were at the time the fire broke out?

A. At home in bed.

Q. Did you get up and go to the fire?

A. I went to the plant.

Q. Did a telephone call come in?

A. Not after I got there.

INVESTIGATION

A. No sir, I don't.

Q. What is your understanding in regard to firemen when the engine is taken away and short of water?

A. Always take the engine.

Q. You are not to depend on the water works at all?

A. Not when there is a big fire.

Q. Was Mr. Beale relieved at the water and light plant and stationed here?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Were you short of water then?

A. Yes sir, he told me that evening they only had five feet in the reservoir.

Q. You knew there was no water down there?

A. Yes sir.

Q. When chief of fire department and short of water did you ever send in signal for more pressure?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Then you knew it and never sent in the signal for more pressure?

A. No sir, I never did.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. You are a member of the fire department?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you attend the meetings regularly?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you ever discuss the question of using the fire engine in place of city water works?

A. I don't think we have in the last two or three years.

Q. Have you had any instructions in regard to that?

A. No sir.

Q. Does the fire committee attend the meetings?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you know who the committee is?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you know on the night of the fire what were the conditions at the water and light plant?

A. Only what Mr. Beale told me that evening.

Q. How much water did he say there was?

A. Five feet in the reservoir.

Q. What time did he leave?

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you know what run Stewart Beale has down there?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you know what time he goes on or off down there?

A. No sir, I know what he used to do.

Q. Did he tell you anything about what they would do in case of fire that night?

A. No sir, only that he had been stationed here for the night.

Q. Did you know there had been a waste of water at the plant?

A. Not until that night.

Q. You didn't know that the reservoir had lost all its water the night before?

A. No sir, not until that night.

Q. Did you know that when you were talking to Stewart?

A. Not until he told me.

Q. Did you get to the fire pretty late?

A. No sir, the fire had not broken out at all. I could not see any fire.

Q. Do you think it would have taken much water to put the fire out?

A. We have put out worse fires with plenty of water pressure.

Questions by Mr. Newhouse.

Q. You were the fire chief that night and had the engine?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you use city water?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What kind of pressure did you have that night?

A. Fair pressure.

Q. How many feet of water in the reservoir?

A. Five.

Questions by Mr. Moore.

Q. Can you get any pressure usually with five or six feet of water in the reservoir?

A. I don't know. That is the lowest it has ever been.

Questions by Mr. Orme.

Q. Has it been the rule heretofore when Mr. Beale was taken away that you were to use the engine in fighting the fires, and you were not to rely on city water?

A. Not all together.

Q. What if you wanted more pressure?

A. When I was chief I had instructions from Ben McFarlan, Ned Abercrombie and some others and at any time we could not get along with the city water we were to use the engine any time we thought it necessary.

Q. Did you always rely on that heretofore when Mr. Beale was taken away?

A. Yes sir.

Questions by Mayor Black.

Q. How long have you been chief?

A. Six years.

Q. Did the water committee ever meet with you?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What time did you get there?

A. About three o'clock.

Q. Had the fire made any headway?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Coming out of the Jackson building?

A. Yes sir, all over.

Q. Did you have charge of a hose?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Where?

A. Off the telephone plug on Allen's grocery and telephone building. From the engine and plug both.

Q. Any pressure at that time?

A. Not very much.

Q. Did the pressure come on at any time?

A. It came by spurts. It came so high that it would reach the high points of the building.

Q. You were working with the hose from the engine?

A. Yes, on the south side of Capp's house, after we disconnected the hose from the plug after the engine had been moved to the race.

Questions by Mr. Orme.

Q. When you got there the building was afire all over?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you hear the first alarm?

A. No sir, I never heard either alarm. I smelled the smoke.

Q. Where do you live?

A. On Ninth street.

Q. Who gave the orders to you?

A. No one. It is our duty to go to the first place and help unless the chief gives us orders.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. Did you have the hose that played on the Allen grocery?

A. Yes sir.

Q. That water was coming from the city hydrant?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How about the pressure?

A. Not very much.

Q. Did you have a fire meeting?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You had no instructions in regard to using the engine?

Q. Do you know any of the members?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you know the chairman?

Questions by Mr. Kelley.

Q. How long have you belonged to the fire department?

A. About four years the 22d of January.

Q. Do you attend the meetings regularly?

A. Yes sir.

Testimony of Henry Gregg.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. You were at the fire the night the Masonic Temple and the Capp home burned?

A. I was called out on second alarm.

Q. Tell the story as you remember it.

A. I had worked 36 hours continuously and decided I would not be called if anything happened with the fire department. I had made arrangements with my father. My wife thought it was pretty serious business when the second alarm came in and called me. I came on my wheel about as fast as Mr. Dickman ran, and I found that the Jackson store was smoking pretty badly but not much fire. Mr. Finney and someone else were at the front. I looked in the plumbing shop to see if there was any chance to get any books out of it, but there was too much smoke. I could not see anything only in the rear of the room; it would turn red and die down.

Q. You saw that in the plumbing shop?

A. Yes, after the Jackson store had been knocked in.

Q. Were the firemen in the building or out of it?

A. They were out. Had been driven out. I saw it was a pretty bad fire and I knew also that the water was low.

Q. How long was that before you saw me? Do you remember seeing me there?

A. I remember seeing you after the Capp home was in flames.

Q. Do you remember talking to me?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What did you say?

A. I asked you if you knew why there was no water pressure.

Q. Who did I tell you to see?

A. The chief of the fire department. You told me to hunt up the engine. It was at the race, too far to be effective. Bad coal and could not get up steam.

Q. What kind of coal was it?

A. I don't know. I tried to burn some of it the next day but could not.

Q. They did not have much steam?

A. No sir.

Q. Who was operating it?

A. Stewart Beale running it and Willie McGuire was firing it.

Q. Did you know there had been an instruction given in regard to the fire engine that night?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you know Stewart Beale had been brought down here to remain over night?

A. No sir.

Q. As a fireman do you know there is some rule whereby you can get pressure from the plant?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What is the rule?

A. Three blows with the big bell of the alarm.

Q. Do you ever resort to telephoning?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Questions by Mr. Kelley.

Q. How long from the time you heard the first alarm until you got there.

A. I never heard any alarm. I heard the last three taps of the second alarm and I expect it was about two and one-half minutes until I was down there.

Q. The engine was at the race when you got there?

A. No sir, the engine wasn't there when I got there. I didn't see the engine when I first got there.

Q. You came right to the building over there.

A. Yes sir.

Q. You could not get in the plumbing shop?

A. No sir, too hot and smoky.

Q. The engine was not there when you got there?

A. I did not know the engine was out until some one in the crowd told me.

Q. According to that it would be about fifteen minutes until you got there after the first alarm?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Then you could not get in your place of business?

A. No sir.

Q. While there do you know of any order being sent to the plant for more pressure?

A. No sir.

Questions by Mr. Moore.

Q. Did you have a line of hose in your charge?

A. No sir.

Q. What line of hose did you handle?

A. Assisted Mr. Dickman in laying hose. I think it was the engine hose.

Q. Did you lay the line to the Masonic Temple or to protect the building on the south?

A. Only up to the Temple.

Q. Did you see any water turned on the south building?

A. No sir.

Q. What did you see in regard to conditions when you came down?

A. Mr. Jackson's store had been knocked in and the smoke was coming from his store in big volumes.

Q. Did you notice any fire in the Temple up above?

A. I did not notice any. I was more interested in the north room at the time because my tools were in there. I put my face to the window but could not hold it there.

Q. If you had plenty of pressure what is your opinion as to whether or not the fire could have been put out?

A. That would be hard to say. I believe with plenty of water pressure and plenty of men we would have been able to keep the fire to the north.

Questions by Mr. Newhouse.

Q. In regard to the coal: Do they always have coal on the engine or what is customary in regard to the fuel?

A. They have all they can on the back of the engine.

Q. Was there any coal on there the night of the fire?

A. I don't know about that. Mr. McGuire told me he could not make steam with it.

Q. You don't know what the supply was?

A. No sir.

Questions by Mr. Orme.

Q. Why was the engine taken to the I. & C. instead of the bridge?

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you know who gave the instructions?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you notice any fire in the Masonic Temple when you got there—any fire in the ceiling?

A. Not that I could see.

Q. Do you think it had burned through into your room?

A. I know it had. I could see the blaze from the front. It looked like it came pretty close to the ceiling.

Questions by Mr. Kelley.

Q. What condition was the coal in on the engine when you got down there—lump or fine?

A. I could not say.

Q. What was it the next morning?

A. Lump coal.

Testimony of Joseph Dickman.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. Tell the story of the fire as you saw it?

A. I heard the first tap of the bell and it has always been my custom to waken my wife and while she counts I get ready. By the time the last gong struck I was at Scudder's corner.

Q. Where do you live?

A. On Buena Vista avenue. I am a pretty good runner as past history will tell. I was about one and one-half minutes getting there.

Q. Do you think that beats your former record?

A. As far as fires are concerned. When I got there I saw Mr. Moffett and Sam Finney and I tried to get the door open and by the time I got the door opened, the glass fell out of it and they had the water to us. Finney and I were the first ones at the nozzle. Just as soon as we kicked the door open there was a big volume of smoke. Nobody could have lived in there. After we got the water and began throwing it I could not see any fire at all. Those places were filled with smoke and I don't believe anybody could see the fire. After a while we could see big volumes of fire coming down from the ceiling and so I stayed there quite a while and went round to the back, but there was nothing doing there, so I came back and called for help and by that time they had the horses unhitched and we took the wagon and run up in front of Mauzy's. Mr. Moffett came and gave several orders and I turned my part over and by that time they had the engine here at the well at Second and Main streets, and we got the hose and connected it on to the engine. It wasn't very long until some one said the well was empty and Mr. Moffett said we will have to have more hose, so we did and strung it from where the engine was down to the race.

Q. About how far is it?

A. I think we used 1200 feet of hose.

Q. Did you use that stream on the temple?

A. Yes sir, altogether.

Q. What line was it that played on the Capp house?

A. I don't know anything about that.

Q. Did you get out all the hose the city had?

A. Every foot of it—about 2300 feet. There was about 1500 feet of good hose and the rest is pretty fair.

Q. Did you burst any hose that night?

A. I think not.

Q. Do you know what stream played on the north side of the Capp house?

A. I put that stream on. It was attached to the plug at the Wilson corner.

Q. Do you remember of the train coming along there?

A. Yes sir, a pretty long freight train. I cut the hose for it to pass.

Q. Did you know anything about the arrangements made that night to fight the fire with the engine?

A. I remember Mr. Moffett said something about the water and light plant had said they were going to keep Stewart down here in case of fire as they were short of water down there.

ARE REGARDED AS SIGNIFICANT

Important Developments in the Mexican Situation.

DIPLOMATIC SUPPORT ABROAD

Action of Both Great Britain and Japan Has Given Assurance of the Sympathy and Moral Support of the Powers Toward the Policy Which the President Has Formulated in Connection With Troublesome State of Things.

Paris, Aug. 13.—President Huerta of Mexico, in reply to a request sent to him by the Matin, cables as follows: "The uneasiness regarding the relations between Mexico and the United States is devoid of foundation."

Washington, Aug. 13.—Two developments have emphasized the probability that President Wilson will have the sympathy and moral support of the powers for the policy he has evolved for settling the Mexican problem.

One was the reported intimation by the Japanese government to the Mexican diplomatic representative at Tokio that the mikado will not receive General Felix Diaz, whom President Huerta has sent as special envoy, to extend the thanks of Mexico for Japanese participation in the Mexican centennial celebration.

The other development that is regarded as significant is a statement by the British foreign office emphasizing the fact that Great Britain in recognizing the Huerta government made it clear that it regarded Huerta as a provisional president who was expected to rule only until a constitutional election was held.

These two developments bear out the statement already made, that President Wilson has reason to feel confident of the sympathy if not the active co-operation of the powers in his attempt in bringing peace to Mexico. The statement of the British government was given out in answer to recent comment that England's recognition of the Huerta government was procured by financial interests who desired to establish the provisional president upon a firmer footing. The administration was agreeably impressed by the action of the British foreign office as indicating at least a spirit of friendliness toward the mission on which John Lind has been sent to Mexico City. That the British foreign office has seen fit to make a public statement at this critical time is considered significant.

The action of the Japanese government in refusing General Diaz an audience with the mikado was regarded here as evidencing the resentment of Japan at the temerity of the Huerta government in permitting pro-Japanese demonstrations and fomenting pro-Japanese talk in Mexico City and Vera Cruz when it was known that these occurrences would be construed as anti-American in spirit. The demonstration referred to came a few weeks ago preceding the arrival of the new Japanese ambassador to Mexico, and it was evident that they were designed solely to express the friendliness of Mexicans toward Japan in the matter of her diplomatic difficulties with the United States over alien land legislation in California. The pro-Japanese talk was regarded here as purely artificial and intended to draw the United States into recognition of the Huerta government through fear of Mexican relations with Japan. It was at that time that President Huerta announced the appointment of General Diaz as a special envoy to visit Japan. Japanese officials were reported at the time as being displeased at the risk of antagonizing the United States against Japan which was involved in these demonstrations. It is believed that the intimation of the mikado's inability to receive Diaz grew out of this displeasure. General Diaz's party is still on the Pacific coast and doubtless its departure for Japan will be delayed until further details are obtained as to the attitude of Japan.

Mr. Bryan has been in communication with Charge O'Shaughnessy and Special Representative Lind. O'Shaughnessy reported that things were quiet at Mexico City and Lind's report brought no news of developments of any importance bearing on his mission.

IRISHMEN CRACK HEADS
Riot in Londonderry Based Upon an Ancient Feud.

Londonderry, Aug. 13.—A typical Orange-Nationalist riot resulted here from the celebration of the "Siege of Derry," the historic stand of the Protestants of the north against James II. in 1689. Many persons on both sides were injured by stones and other missiles. One policeman was shot and is believed to be dying.

Mayor Sir William McLearn was struck on the head by a stone and severely hurt while trying to rescue an English visitor from a mob engaged in beating him.

Coming Prison Congress.
Indianapolis, Aug. 13.—Governors of several states have promised to attend the international prison congress which will be held in this city Oct. 11 to 16.

MAD MULLAH
Leader of Dervishes Is Again on the War Path.

Aden, Arabia, Aug. 13.—A camel corps of British native troops was ambushed by a force of 2,000 dervishes near Burao. The British killed and wounded include two officers and about sixty men. Many thousand followers of Mad Mullah are on the war-path.

QUIZ PROVING TOO MUCH FOR MULHALL

Old Lobbyist Has Severe Attack of "Nerves."

Washington, Aug. 13.—Martin M. Mulhall, "ex-colonel," was "taken sick to his stummock" before the house lobby investigation committee and upon application of his counsel the "informant" was excused from further attendance for two days.

The ex-colonel was weak, he said, and nervous and his nerves had so affected his digestion as to make it very difficult for him to sit under the examination of the committee. He called the attention of the committee to his shaking hands and trembling lips, and after a long executive session the committee finally agreed that the witness was not physically able to stand further grilling.

James A. Emery, Washington counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, was a witness before the senate committee. He had an opportunity to explain the exact business relations between himself and Mulhall previous to Mulhall's break with the association. Mr. Emery explained that Mulhall acted as a "legislation information source," it being his duty to report the nature and status of pending legislation, results of his interviews with congressmen on labor and other legislation.

TELLS STORY OF DISGRACE

Chief Witness in the Diggs Case Goes on Stand.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—Showing abundant evidence of the great strain under which she was laboring, but still collected enough to give direct answers to questions asked, Marsha Warrington began the recital of the tale which is expected to play such an important part in the trial of Maury Diggs for violation of the white slave law.

For an hour and a half the young woman replied steadily to the questions by which Assistant Attorney General Roche drew from her the story of her first acquaintance and friendship with Diggs, the course of intimidation by which she swore that the former state architect and his chum, Caminetti, induced her and Lola Norris to elope with them, of the preparations for the runaway, and of the journey to Reno on March 10. She had her facts well in mind and in most instances answered promptly and directly to all questions. After it was over and court had adjourned she almost collapsed.

In cross-examination Attorney Coghlin tried to make the witness admit she entered into the Reno elopement in a happy frame of mind and that she joined the party for the purpose of "having a good time."

Venezuelan Uprising a Fizzle.
Washington, Aug. 13.—The uprising led by Cipriano Castro in Venezuela is officially reported by American Consul Voetter at Caracas, as a failure. He confirms reports that General Torres and his officers, who headed the revolution in the eastern part of the country, have been captured.

PRaise FOR TWO OF ARCADIANs

Newcastle Papers Speak Highly of Mattern and Bridgeman—Hand it to Infield.

POOR SUPPORT BEHIND AVERY

In commenting on the game Sunday between the Arcadians and the Hoosiers the Newcastle papers speak highly of several of the Rushville players. Mattern, the nervy little catcher for the locals comes in for his share of the praise. The Courier says of Mattern as follows:

When the Arcadians are in the city Newcastle fans have a chance to see one of the squarest baseball men on the diamonds. It is Mattern, the scrappy little catcher of the visiting team. He was in the game at all times, even after the rest of the team had quit and were ready to go home. He is honest in his playing and clean in every respect. He suffered a few mishaps to his hand, but always came back like a true sportsman.

In speaking of the infield the morning Star says: Rushville was woefully weak in the infield in fielding, while its outfield could not hit. Klenk at short and Coombs at third played like boobs and greatly discouraged "Slats" Avery, who pitched a good game considering the handicap of poor support. Bridgeman at first was the Rushville star both in the field and with the stick.

GAME DEPUTIES IN THE COUNTY

Leave Blanks in Every Town in County So Licenses Can be Procured Easily.

FILL OUT AND ENCLOSE DOLLAR

Call Attention to Chance in Laws and Say Deputy Will be Here Often.

Lewis J. Amos and Peter Graley, deputy fish and game commissioners who have been working in Rush county for a few days, reported today that they had placed blanks with men in all of the small towns of the county to enable sportsmen to get hunting licenses without any difficulty. All that will be necessary now is to fill out a blank and mail it and a dollar to the clerk of the circuit court and he will return the license.

"Hunters had better go to the trouble of taking out a license, since we are making it easy for them," said Mr. Amos. "This way it costs only a dollar and there is no risk of having to pay a heavy fine. The new law provides a man can not hunt off his own premises without a license. Before that he could hunt in his township without a license. Doubtless many have been hunting without licenses. There is going to be a man here every two or four weeks so that a violator will be taking big chances. Blanks may be procured of the following places of the men named: A. G. Abernathy, Homer; George J. Inlow, Manilla; F. R. Branson, Gowdy; Barlow Brothers, Moscow; Patten & Thrall, Milroy; A. W. Jones, Richland; Jake Perkins, New Salem; William DeMoss, Henderson; W. H. Sharer, Carthage; Henry & Sons, Mays; A. Poer, Raleigh; Charles Beck, Falmouth; Lema Benson, Fairview; Harry Wilson, Fairview; Harry Wilson, Glenwood; D. M. Balldridge, Arlington.

CONTEST WAS CALLED OFF

Methodists and Presbyterians Will Stage Game Saturday.

The game in the Sunday School league scheduled between the Methodists and the Presbyterians for this afternoon was postponed until Saturday afternoon on account of wet grounds. The grounds were in no condition for the game and as no game was scheduled for Saturday it was decided to stage the contest then. The Methodist team by winning can take second place from the Presbyterians. The Meachams are determined to keep their standing and the game promises to be a battle. Flat-Flatrock and the Christian team will play next Wednesday.

HOUSE HIT BY LIGHTNING

Residence on Charles Hugo Farm is Damaged.

The residence on the Charles Hugo farm in Jackson township was considerably damaged by lightning this morning during the storm that passed over this city. The lightning hit the chimney and ran down into the house. The brick chimney was destroyed and the roof damaged. The weather boarding was torn off at the northwest corner of the house. No fire followed the lightning and the damage is fully covered by insurance. Charles Nordloh lives in the house and together with the family suffered from the bolt. All were stunned but were not seriously injured.
